TEAM BUILDING CHALLENGE COURSES

Strengthening Teams Through Adventure

Is your team up to the challenge?

Carol Joy Holling Camp, Conference and Retreat Center invites you to come experience the fun of working together as a team. The Co-Op program will not only bring new energy to your team, it will also provide an opportunity for your group to intentionally work on developing and advancing team skills. Working through the challenges together will develop the skills of trust, communicating effectively, keeping each other accountable and committing to one another.

Every team has different needs, objectives and goals. That is why each program is a customized experience that includes a preparatory consultation between your group leader and our staff coordinators. Every program is unique and is focused on achieving the results you desire.

What People are saying...

"The Co-Op experience was amazing! The group work makes it challenging and most of all, the Co-Op course elements and trust exercises showed us what we're made of."

University of Nebraska at Omaha

"Wow! What a great day we had with your Co-Op program. We felt very warmly welcomed and served."

King of Kings Lutheran Church, Omaha

"We have many different personalities in our group. It was amazing to see how everyone came together to complete the challenge at hand. We learned through experience how to better support each other, and had a great time in the process!"

AmeriCorps

"The activities that you chose were very appropriate for all ability levels of our group. You kept the activities moving at the right rate. Time seemed to fly. In the future, should we need additional team training, we will first look to your program."

Mutual of Omaha Insurance Company

"Thank you so very much for the outstanding team building session... I know the girls left there with more leadership abilities and trust in themselves and each other!"

American Heart Association Sweethearts

Courses Include...

There are great challenge course options to choose from depending on the goals and ability of your group. The Summit Course contains individual climbing and crossing challenges, that are over 40 feet high. The Commitment Trail Course allows participants to be challenged both individually and as a group. The low ropes course provides great teambuilding challenges without leaving the ground. The indoor challenge course allows for team building excitement year-round.

Flying Squirrel

Power Pole

Our challenge courses offer participants challenge and excitement in a controlled, safe environment with trained and certified facilitators. Our center's philosophy of "challenge by choice" allows participants to choose their own challenges while giving them opportunities to do things they may never have thought possible.
